HARTFORD, KENTUCKY, JULY 25, 1888.

VOL. XIV.

Hot Weather Prices! A JOUST IN VIRGINIA.

THE ANNUAL TOURNAMENT ON THE RAPPAHANNOCK.

"I COME, THE HERALD OF A NOISY WORLD, THE NEWS OF ALL NATIONS LUMBERING AT MY BACK!"

THE GREAT EVENT OF THE YEAR—Calling the Roll of Rovers—Knight—Glory and Honor—The "Queen of Love and Beauty" Crowned.

At last the hour of the tournament dawned, and all the vehicles were ranged in the ground, the field where the contest is to take place, and all are filled with happy occupants, pretty girls in riding costumes, young men of every type, old men who recall the days when they contended in knightly lists, and old ladies who remember when they were honored with the crown.

The field, about which all are crowding, is a long level stretch of grass land, across which has been marked out a straight course, and at intervals of about 100 yards are set three frame structures, which serve as goals for the jousts. A staunch upright is built in the center of each goal, and a flag extends from the end of this flag hangs a ring upon a pole, and the object of the contest is to take off these rings upon the point of a lance. A lance is a long pole, one end of the course is a platform for the joust.

At length a bugle call summons the knights to the field. Slowly they file into the ground, and the crowd, rising up their horses, form into a line, facing the joust, ready to answer the roll of the "Queen of Love and Beauty." The knights are mounted upon superb horses, and are dressed in armor, the "Queen of Love and Beauty" is seated upon a throne, and is surrounded by a crowd of ladies.

THE PLATFORM.

The Democratic party of the United States, in national convention assembled, pledges the pledge of its fidelity to democratic faith and reaffirms the platform adopted by its representatives in the convention of 1896, and indorses the views expressed by President Cleveland in his last recent message to Congress as the correct interpretation of that platform on the question of tariff reduction and also indorses the efforts of our Democratic representatives in Congress to secure a reduction of excessive duties on raw materials and principles of duty.

It is the duty of the Democratic party to secure the reduction of excessive duties on raw materials and principles of duty, now about to enter upon its second year of unexampled progress and recovery, devoted to a policy of government strictly applying every granted power and expressly reserving the right to reserve the principles of duty.

ask it, we will prove same by one of your county committeemen. We will prove that said committee man said that "Leach was counted out by twenty-five votes because John Lindley had the money." If you want his name, we will give it, and prove that said committee man made the above statement to his brother. Do you want the name of the committeemen?

It is stated that a prominent Democrat wrote the book letter in the Herald and that he's going back to it. Make a note of it, and see if you can find the Republican ticket—Republican Progress.

Yes, and the Republicans who held a meeting near Baven one evening last week tried the strength of Mr. Beck's faith by appointing him on a prominent committee and inviting him to said meeting. As we knew he would do it, we called on him, and he was making a Republican speech, but instead, perfectly astounded the Republicans as assembled on this occasion by making them a rousing Democratic speech, knocking the bottom out of any and every other speech there. Now to the Progress, we say you had better be quiet, or we will tell some thing more. Put this down: Mr. Beck will vote the Democratic ticket, and he wrote that letter, too.

WE understand that Mr. Bradley stated at McHenry that no Republican was allowed over to see the investigation of Tate. Now, we have in our office the report of the committee which was appointed to investigate both the Auditor's and Treasurer's offices, and which were retained over ten days after adjournment. To that report is signed the name of Senator J. H. Landford, of Hopkins county, who is a Republican. The committee to settle up the I. O. U.'s of Mr. Tate also had Col. Barrett, of Louisville, who is a Republican. Mr. Bradley seems to think that the people of McHenry do not read.

THEORY OF THE DEMAGOGUE. Hon. William O. Bradley said in his speech at the court house last Wednesday, that the Republican party favored education, and the Democratic party was opposed to education. These are two plain statements, and as plainly made by the Hon. William O. Bradley, the statesman from the demagogue, and Mr. Bradley clearly showed that he was a prominent member of the latter class. We do not take issue with this statement because he is a member of the Republican party, but because he said what was positively untrue, and if he is not well enough informed to know this, he is less intelligent than the majority of his party. The Democratic party is in favor of education and its history shows it. Because the Democratic party does not unconditionally endorse one plan suggested by Senator Blair to give money to the school fund, Mr. Bradley and men of his ilk tell the people that the Democratic party is opposed to education. Mr. Bradley's pious appeal to the prejudice of his hearers to support that party that would "take its poor little child by the hand and educate it after the parent was dead and gone" was certainly worthy of the efforts of a sixteen year old school boy, but for a recent candidate for the vice-presidency to make such utterances, is amusing in the extreme. The Democratic party is in favor of education, and the Republicans are against it. We know it. The Democratic party believes in doing its own work and not asking others to educate its own children. If Mr. Bradley does not know the great power of education in the individual, he is certainly not a fit candidate for the vice-presidency, and the Chicago Tribune was correct in condemning this seeker of notoriety.

Mr. Bradley thinks if the government will subsidize its poor up to $100,000 and give money to the people to educate their children, the millennium will shortly follow. Let us look at this a moment. In the event the government should subsidize the education of the people, a sudden flow of money would come to the schools, which under the present plan would last but a few years, after which the schools would be in no better condition than before, since the return to the original basis from which the subsidy was based would react in its workings to the injury of the schools. Furthermore, while the government money paid for everything, the people would lose that personal interest which would be constantly made to have good schools. Mr. Bradley's statement that the "people were slaves of the government," is as delusive as his plea on the educational question. The people are not "slaves of the government," but the government is the creature and servant of the people. The laws are made by the people, and to be changed by the people whenever they will or wish. The Republicans themselves don't believe in Mr. Bradley's statement that the people are the "slaves of the government." Moreover, slavery has ceased to exist in America, but Mr. Bradley would have us believe that a more tyrannous slavery was now in vogue. The true solution to Kentucky's educational problem is not through the treasury of the United States, but lies with the people themselves. The people are the ones to solve this problem, and they will solve it. The Republican party is interested on the subject of education, the better will be the schools. Everybody knows this, both Democrats and Republicans. The best educated men the world ever saw came from the "back of the line" by their own individual energy, and the world can be educated in no other way. The individual must be the predominant factor in our education. If the people would think less about sucking pail from the government, rely more on themselves, and go to work for what they want, we would have a better school system. We do not say these things because we are a Democrat, but because they are true and true for Democrats and Republicans alike, and when Mr. Bradley presumes so much on the ignorance of people he had better go next time to another county, and not to Ohio, which has good public schools, owing to the interest taken in them by her individual citizens, both Democrats and Republicans.

As we go to press to learn that Mr. Milligan proposed to go to Taylor, Iowa last night to answer Moore, T. J. Smith and R. R. Becker. The gentlemen had no appointment at that place, and never once dreamed of being there at that time. If Milligan & Company will make their own appointments, we suspect they they have had enough of this sort of unscrupulous slandering around will certainly disgust their own best men.

Bradley and Tariff. Hon. W. O. Bradley, a great flood of trumpets, told the people that when the Democrats surrendered to the G. O. P. at the close of the administration of James Buchanan, the U. S. Treasury was empty, but now it was full to overflowing. He said that the Democrats had rid of it. True, Mr. Bradley, the treasury is full, but it is overflowing with money wrongfully taken from the pockets of the people, and the Democrats worked hard to have the Mill Bill passed for the purpose of reducing the tariff, and reducing the tariff revenue in the Treasury. In this attempt to legislate in favor of the great masses of the people, they were every step by the Republicans. They the Republicans, favor legislation that makes the rich richer, the poor poorer, and the middle class in the middle. They favor a tariff which produces more revenue than is demanded to pay the legitimate expenses of the government, and even more administered; they favor a tariff for protection, the Democrats favor a tariff for revenue. The Democrats are sufficient to meet the necessary and legitimate demands of the government. A Treasury filled to overflowing with money wrongfully taken from the people does not add to the prosperity of the people. Better have the Treasury with a small surplus, or even empty, if it does not have it full of money which is time no one any good, and a temptation to corruption. The Democratic doctrine is, that the government under the constitution has a legal right to collect only so much as is demanded to pay the debt and provide for the common defense and welfare of the United States. The Democrats say that is the only power of Congress to levy and collect taxes. The doctrine of the Republicans is, that the power of Congress has no limit, except such as will satisfy the greed and greed of the bloated and protected manufacturer. Again Mr. Bradly, if the Treasury was empty, if the surplus was in the pockets of the people, where it legally should be, would there not be a greater degree of prosperity among the people? The surplus in the Treasury is needed in trade, and it would be much better for the country if the surplus was never accumulated on the Asiatic coast on the night of the 2nd of Jan, 1877, to keep the camp fires burning to deceive the British, while he stole away from Cornwallis to his reinforcement at Princeton.

His grave is unmarked, save a rough one on his head and feet. I think it is a duty that we, the people of Ohio county, owe to the memory of the soldiers of that period that we place a suitable mark over the grave of this veteran, that the future generation may know, here rests the dust of one of those heroes who fought for the independence of the United States, and helped to secure the blessings that we now enjoy. I will be one of the party of one hundred or of five hundred, will give one dollar each for the above named purpose, who will second the move?

The Bigger the Better. The Commercial by a typographical error has given the name of "G. J. Bean & Co." as the party who have got it. Ohio County Progress. It is a good thing that the bigger is the better. Don't rob our esteemed contemporary of its only virtue.

To Hartford Baptists. When in the province of God, I hope to preach one more at Beaver Dam next Sunday, will it not be an honorable and pleasant pasture for me to preach at that occasion? It is a lovely drive, and would not your presence there be a great help to the cause of the people who are striving to maintain our cause in that town and community, and would it not be an invitation and encouragement for them to attend our services in Hartford? Let all who can, attend.
